The remains of Miss Helen Stoddard from Boston were brought here for burial Thursday, accompanied by her sisters, Mrs. Frederick E. Carpenter and Mrs. James T. Howard, formerly of this place, and Dr. H. B. Carpenter, of Lancaster. Miss Stoddard was a daughter of the late Lawyer Stoddard, resident bere, and she was for several years a prominent music teacher in Boston. She was ill only a few days, the cause of her death being acute indigestion. Besides the above mentioned she leaves one sister, Miss Josephine Stoddard, who had lived with her in Boston.

Mrs. R. M. C. Howe passed away very quietly on Sunday morning at her home on Summer street, after an illness of about ten days. She was born in Woodstock in December, 1822, the daughter of Joseph and Mercy McKenzie, being one of a family of seven children. An aged sister in Woodstock is now the only living member of the family. She was married to R. C. M. Howe in 1844, they living happily together 59 years. She is survived by her husband and two children, George M., and Laura T. Howe. Mrs. Howe was a woman of strong and enduring friendship and estimable character, kind and considerate of the interests of others, just and charitable in all her dealings, ever loving and faithful as a wife and mother, triend and neighbor. She will be greatly missed by all who knew her.

Funeral services were held from her home Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Mr. Walch officiating.

AT THE ACADEMY. Pre-Memorial Day Exercises.

The exercises at the Academy, Friday afternoon, were of marked interest. The speakers were Capt. Charles H. Woodbury and Arthur F. Stone. Capt. Woodbury presented reminiscences of his army experience, and the close attention that the audience gave the speaker proved that these recitals, which the veterans of attraction for those of the younger gen. eration. He closed his excellent talk with a statement of the causes for the institution of Memorial Day and some reasons why it should be observed and honored. Mr. Stone drew some impressive lessons from the Civil War and from all wars fought by men of loyal purpose. Duty is the watchword of loyalty, in all walks and relations of life, was emphasized as the great factor in successful development of character, and many s riking examples were given to illustrate this truth. The loyalty that can torget sectional hostility in devotion to one's country and its general good was illus-trated by the life and services of such men as Gen. Wheeler.

A matinee will be given Saturday.

A Family Gathering.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel F. Pearce, at 93 Portland street, Memorial day, when the entire family was present. The party consisted of father and mother, six sons and two daughters as follows: Company D was held yesterday, nearly Herman S. J. Pearce and son of Plainall the men reporting for duty. The in- field; Walter E. G. Pearce and family, Elbridge R. N. Pearce and family, George Hovey, 24th Infantry, assisted by Capt. R. N. Pearce of Littleton; Arthur C. N. C. F. H. McFarlin and son, and Macompany drill was held on the Union bel E. E. Pearce of St. Johnsbury, making a company of 25. A delightful time was spent and all enjoyed this meeting after a separation of 17 years. Alter the festivities of the day they went to Photographer Clark's where family and group photographs were taken.

Three Pleasant Gatherings.

George H. Shaw was greatly surprised on his return to his home, Monday night at about eight o'clock, to find Misses Nettie Hooker and Mae Lowell about 25 friends awaiting to congratulate him on the occasion of his 23rd birthday. He entertained the company with several selections on his phonograph, and ice cream and cake were served. He was presented with a number of beautiful gitts by Maurice Paige, in behalf of the company, and Mr. Shaw responded to the presentation in a pleasing manner. They departed at a late hour wishing him many happy returns of the day.

The ninth birthday of Miss Clara S. Daniels was celebrated at her home at 2 Pleasant street, last Wednesday afternoon, when she entertained a few of her near-by playmates. The time between 4 and 6 o'clock was very pleasantly spent, refreshments were served, and several gifts were presented to her. She has been in poor health for several months and her guests left with many kind words and good wishes for her improved health.

Misses Madaline and Harriette Weeks entertained about 25 of their young friends Saturday afternoon, the occasion of the former's 10th birthday. Icecream, cake and lemonade were served and the afternoon pleasantly spent in games. The guests left a number of dainty presents and all greatly enjoyed themselves.

At Rockwell's Pavilion.

At the upper end of Railroad street a large audience saw, Monday night, the five act comedy "Young America." The entire bill gave general satisfaction and the specialties between the acts were a strong feature. The program will be changed every night. "The Celebrated Case" will be given tonight, "A Double Life" Thursday night, and Friday night "A Sister's Revenge," a story of New York life by Hal Reede. Manager Rockwell's company is stronger than ever. Matinee on Saturday and on that day every seat at 10 cents.
